

Professional Teaching Fellow

School of Nursing

Faculty of Medical and Health Sciences

Job Code: 12656

Applications are invited for a Professional Teaching Fellow position in the area of Adult Nursing within the University of Auckland's School of Nursing. Medical surgical experience is advantageous. Level of appointment will reflect successful candidate's experience.

This is one full-time position but part-time will be considered.

The Faculty of Medical and Health Sciences have established graduate and undergraduate programmes in Nursing. This allows nursing to develop as a University discipline and educates nurses alongside doctors and other health professionals within an environment of scholarship and research.

Applications will be considered from candidates qualified at postgraduate level with a strong clinical focus in nursing. Successful candidates will be expected to establish close links with clinical areas. Teaching will occur in the undergraduate area in a variety of clinical settings.

Candidates must hold a nursing qualification and be registrable as a nurse in New Zealand together with a recognised qualification at postgraduate level. Candidates with experience in teaching and supervising nursing students would be preferred.

Enquiries of an academic nature should be directed to Associate Professor Judy Kilpatrick, telephone 64 9 373 7599 Extn 82897 or e-mail j.kilpatrick@auckland.ac.nz.

Applications close 15 February 2011.
